Colonel Lyman D. Bothwell
Deputy Chief of Staff for Intelligence
United States Continental Army Command
Fort Monroe, Virginia

Dear Colonel Bothwell:

Mr. Amory is out of the country and will be away until about the 20th of December. I know that he has been looking forward to a visit to the Continental Army Command and discussions with General Clarke and yourself about intelligence problems. In view of Mr. Amory's absence, however, and the catching up that he will have to do after his return, would it be possible for us to postpone our visit until the latter part of January?

It is very kind of you to extend this invitation and all of us included in it are looking forward to the event.

Sincerely yours,

W. A. Tidwell
Assistant to the DD/I (Planning)
